DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the tube member must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

Art Unit: 3643

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claim 10 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim 10 is a method claim that depends from article claim 6. It appears that claim 10 should depend from claim 7.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1, 2, 3, 6, 7, 8, 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Pixton '175.

The e patent to Pixton shows a fishing lure having a weight with a through bore where the weight member tapers to a first end and is flattened at a second end. Pixton shows means 25 or 38 or 44 secured to the second end at 43 with a waterproof glue 30 as disclosed in column 4, lines 11-14.

6. Claims 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 7, 8, 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Strickland.

The e patent to Strickland shows a fishing lure having a weight member 30 defining a through bore such as axial opening 36. Strickland shows the weight member tapering to a first end and having a flattened second end. Strickland shows a means, such as coil spring 42 secured to the second end of the weight member for attaching the weight member to the lure 16 and for receiving a fishing line 12. Strickland discloses a wire coil column 4, lines 38-39.

7. Claims 1, 2, 5, 6, 7, 9, 10, 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Crumrine '655.

8. The patent to Crumrine shows a fishing lure having a weight member 20 defining a through bore 30, 42 with the weight member tapering to a bullet first end and a flattened second in the shape of a bullet. Crumrine shows a coil 54 secured to the second end of the weight member for attaching the weight member to a lure 100 and for receiving a fishing line 60 wherein the fishing line extends through and contacts the coil spring and extends through the through bore as shown in Fig. 7. In reference to claims 5 and 9, the coil 54 acts as a tube member that is secured in the through bore 42 flush with the end of the through bore at the second end as shown in Fig. 4.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

9. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

10. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Strickland.

The patent to Strickland shows a fishing lure with a weight as discussed above.

Strickland does not disclose a tungsten weight member. the weight is thought to be lead. However, it would have been obvious to employ a tungsten weight since the selection of a known material is based on its suitability or the intended use noting that tungsten would avoid the toxicity associated with lead. See In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416.

Conclusion

11. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The patents to Holtshampf, Zascavage, Martinek, Link, Crumrine '540, and Infinger show other fishing lures.
